PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The ANGU video doorphone set designed for single-family houses is a functional solution for entrance monitoring, thus increasing the safety of the user. It consists of an indoor monitor and an outdoor unit, which feature high-quality and modern design.

The device has an intuitive 4-wire connection that allows easy and reliable self-installation. Moreover, it reduces the number of cables running to the gate. The gate and door control increases the convenience of use, and the electric strike does not require additional power supply.

The monitor is equipped with a 7-inch screen with a resolution of 800x480 px offering a clear, color image, as well as simple navigation thanks to sensor buttons. The wide viewing angle of the camera in the external panel (92° horizontally and 65° vertically) allows to monitor what is happening in front of the gate or door.

Additionally, the user can adjust the system to their individual preferences by selecting a ringtone from 12 melodies and adjusting the volume (including complete muting).

The monitor is made of white plastic. Designed for surface mounting. Dimensions: 185x127x24 mm.

The outdoor unit is equipped with a RFID card and key tag reader operating at a frequency of 13.56 MHz. It allows access for up to 200 users without the need to carry additional keys (two RFID key tags included).

The outdoor unit with IR lighting guarantees visibility at night, without blinding the visitor.

The high IP65 rate and the aluminium housing guarantee resistance to difficult weather conditions and protection against external damage. Silver colour. Designed for surface mounting. Compact dimensions of 54x139x33 mm allow the unit to be placed in narrow spaces.

The set may be expanded with one CCTV camera creating a complete monitoring system.
